To Whom It May Concern:

We hired Fred Sarkari for our conference due to a recommendation from one of our Board Members. He did a great interactive personality session that all the people at the conference talked about for the rest of the event.

Fred gave great insight that was relevant to our everyday industry situations and he was able to do it while creating a lot of laughter within the audience.

In the end of the session, Fred made everyone accountable for their implementation. We are definitely considering bringing Fred back when the next opportunity arises to do so.

I highly recommend Fred for any of your events, especially in the Real-Estate industry.

I would be happy to answer any questions if you need to talk to me directly.
